Featured is the daily gold chart. Price is carving out a large ARAT pattern. The SIs are at support levels, the MAs are in positive alignment and rising. The green arrow point to support for a pullback and a rise above the blue arrow will mark the start of a rally towards $3,900.00. The number of ounces backing GLD was unchanged at 30.7 million. The GDI closed at 90% compared to 95% the day before.

Featured is GDX the miners ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The current pullback is finding support the green arrow. A rise above the blue arrow will mark the start of a rally. The SIs are mixed but the MAs are in positive alignment and rising.

=== >>> MODEL PORTFOLIO

Each report will show the trades that were completed since the last report.

Since I do most of my trading on the TSX, I will show the stock symbol for the US equivalent in brackets. Note: when trading a pink sheet listed stock, you should always buy or sell using a specific price - never a 'market' order.

To benefit from this feature, pull up a chart for any of the symbols that I buy or sell. Determine if you want to do likewise or wait for another opportunity. If you're not sure of the fundamentals, - click on the website link provided. Always make sure the index or ETF that represents the sector is in harmony with your trade. I apologize for the short time I stay in some stocks, but this is all based on chart patterns. If the chart pattern changes from positive to negative – I usually run. Here are some of my trading habits:

- I eliminate all emotion. Stocks are simply investments that I use to improve the bottom line. I pick a stock or commodity because I think the chart pattern looks positive. Once I decide that we are operating in a bull market, I don't bother with sell stops - I patiently wait for the stock or ETF to come back into positive territory.
- When I do sell below my cost, I look at the loss as an opportunity to get into a winner.
- I use the 20 day and 30 day exponential moving averages at Stockcharts.com to help me decide when to buy and when to sell. Then I draw a channel, just as I do in the reports I issue. As long as the stock stays in the channel, I'll keep it as part of the portfolio, unless I decide to take profits.
- You've heard people say: 'Buy Low – Sell High'. Here is a variation on that advice: BUY HIGH – SELL HIGHER! It has been my experience that buying stocks that have just broken out to a new 5 year high have been the best performers in my portfolio. When a stock or commodity has reached this stage, there is 'blue sky' ahead.
- Next I look at the supporting indicators – especially the Accumulation/Distribution line. When a stock or commodity becomes overbought (such as trading near the top of the channel, or making a 'double or triple' top), I usually sell all or part of my holding into the rally. . Over time I try to replace these stocks during pullbacks.
- Finally I make sure that the sector in which the stock or commodity operates, is moving in the same direction as the stock of commodity that I am about to buy.

Here are some kernels of wisdom from a very successful trader, Jesse Stine:

- Emotional intelligence is of utmost importance.
- Discipline is key
- Drawdowns are lessons.
- Patience is very important
- Ignore the news media
- Have faith in your system
- Trade with confidence
- Never get attached to a stock
- Be a contrarian
- Be a lone wolf.

According to an article titled: The Strange Behavior of Gold Investors, by Dimitri Speck (link is here): <https://www.gold-eagle.com/article/strange-behavior-gold-investors-monday-thursday>

Wednesday is a day when investors usually buy gold early.

5 transactions since the last report. I purchased shares in ALS.to at 27.11; also FRU.to at 13.16; also MNT.to at 49.67; also NGD.to at 6.79; also RUP.to at 5.23; The last 151 closed transactions resulted in 141 winners and 10 losers, producing a percentage of +93%. The reason why our portfolio is large is due to the desire to be of help to as many investors as possible. Our position in 'penny stocks' is always very conservative.

17 positions are 'under water'. 2 positions are 'free' (they have doubled).

My portfolio consists of 75% precious metals, 21% in various other categories and 4% cash.

Here is my portfolio:

Featured is the silver chart. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The breakout at the blue arrow allowed price to rise to the green arrow. The brown arrow points to support for a pullback. A confirmed close above the green arrow will lead to the opening of a new channel. The SIs are positive, along with the MAs. The number of ounces backing SLV increased from 474.2 to 478.3 million.

Featured is SIL the silver producers ETF. Price is rising inside the double blue channels. The SIs are positive, along with the MAs. The green arrow points to support. A rise above the blue arrow will likely lead to the opening up of the next blue channel.

Featured is URNM a Uranium ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. An advance above the blue arrow will indicate that the rise is ongoing. The green arrow points to support. The brown arrow points to a sharply rising 50DMA. The SIs are positive.

Featured is the copper chart. Price is rising inside the blue channel. A close above the blue arrow sets up a target at the green arrow. The SIs are positive along with the MAs.

Featured is XOI the oil producers index, with crude oil at the top. Price is working on a large triangle. A rise above the blue arrow will turn the trend bullish. The green arrow points to support.

Featured is the S&P 500 index. Price is racing towards lateral resistance. A confirmed close above the blue arrow will mark the start of a new rally. A pullback will test support at the green arrow. The brown arrow points to a sharply rising 50DMA. The bull is proving to be quite determined!

=== >>> Food for Thought

He said to them, "Go into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

— Mark 16:15

I have always liked the story—it's not factual, but it is based on truth—the story of when Jesus Christ returned to Heaven after His resurrection and His ascension. When He arrived in heaven, as the story goes, all of the angels gathered around to hear about His great exploits on the earth below. He told them about His birth in a manger, about the life He lived, about His work as a carpenter, His mission as a prophet going out and preaching and teaching, the gathering together of His disciples, His betrayal, His scourging, His mockery, His condemnation, the Cross, the spikes, the sword, the tomb, and finally the glorious resurrection and His return into Heaven.

He said, "I have told my disciples that they are to go into all the world and tell everyone that through what I have done, they may have pardon and forgiveness and reconciliation and may receive the free gift of eternal life.”

Then there was quiet among the angels. Finally, one of them said, “Lord, but what if they don’t do that? What other plan do you have?”

Jesus Christ replied, “I have no other plan.”

Dear friends, you are it.
