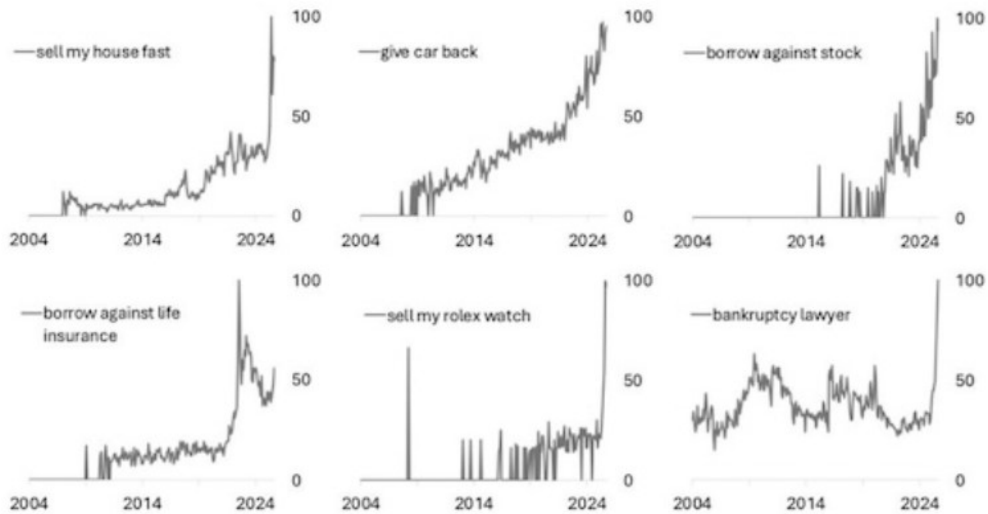
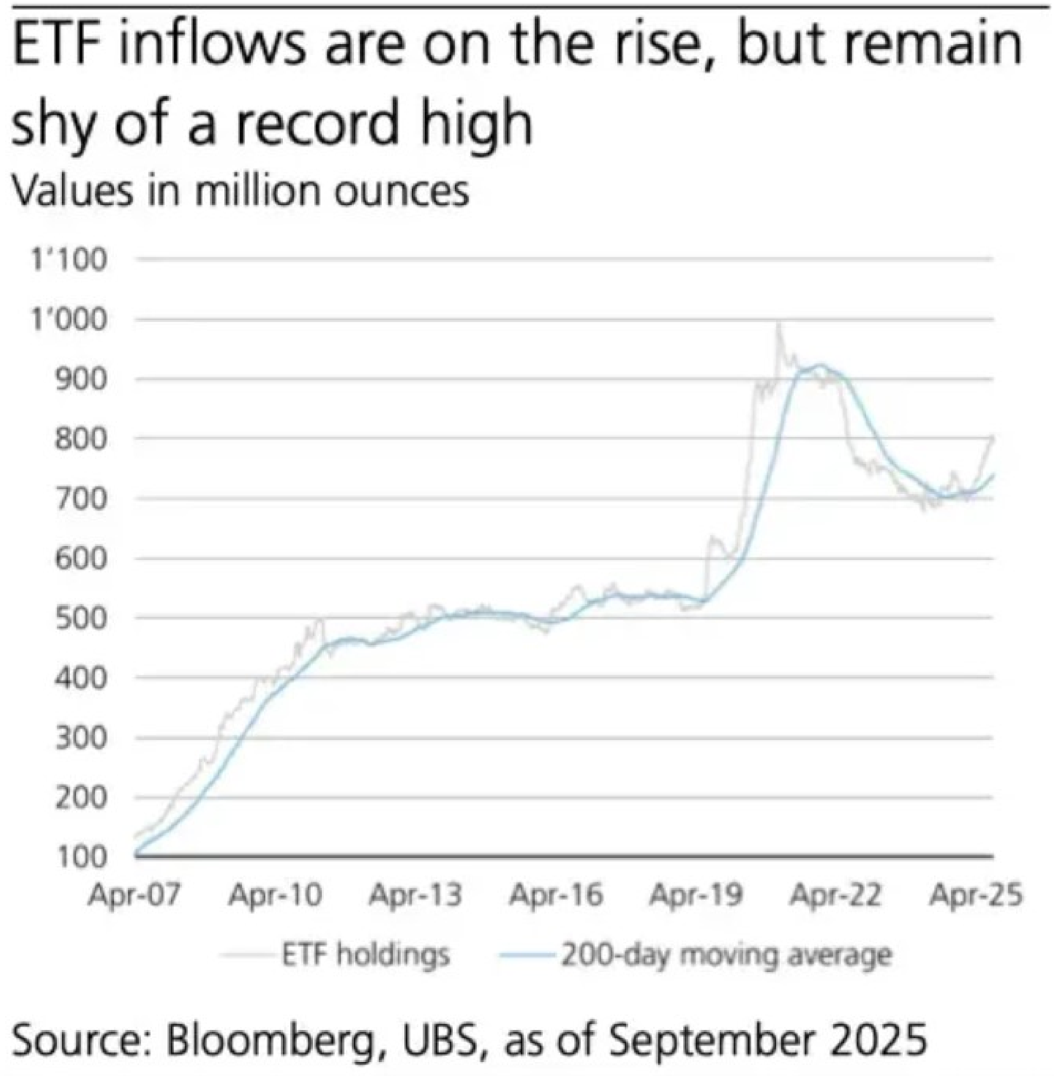
=== >>> Please note: Starting this week, and due to the fact that gold and silver are now entering an emotional (rapid) stage, our service will consist of two features: The Weekend report for all who find it useful, and the daily missive for traders and investors who support us. Transactions in the Model Portfolio will be available daily, in the daily short report.
Thanks for past support!



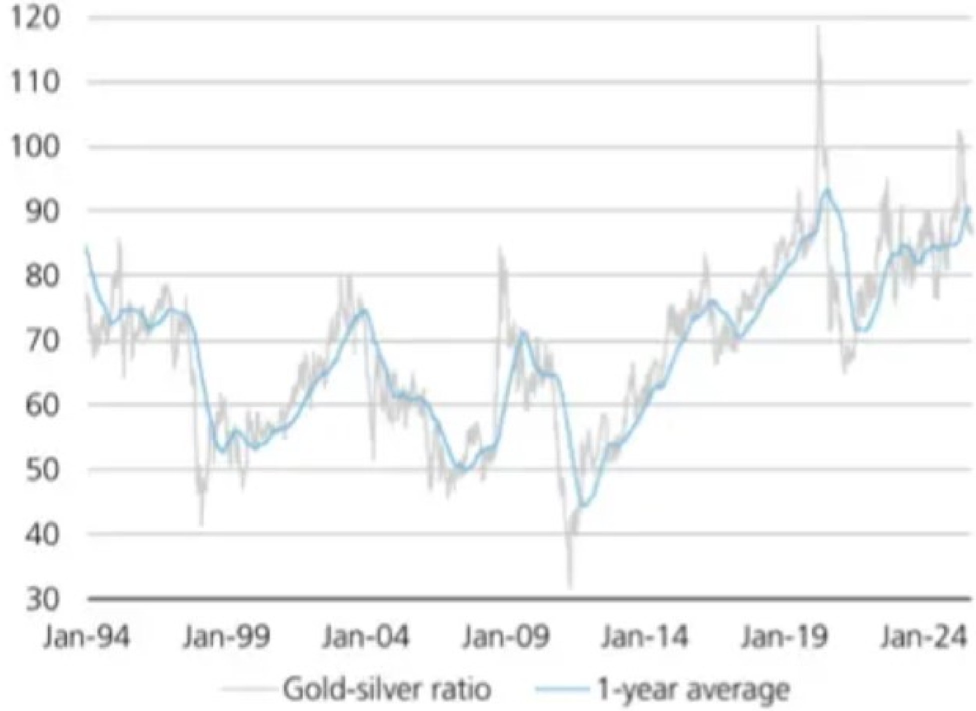
This group of charts courtesy Myrmikan Research reveal the actual search requests recently made to Google. This paints a bleak picture.



This chart courtesy Bloomberg shows the investing public is finally becoming interested in gold again.

The gold-silver ratio has room to drop

Weekly data



Source: Bloomberg, UBS, as of September 2025

Featured is the daily gold chart. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The green arrow points to the first level of support. The next support level is at $3,700.00. This is week #6 in the 7 -8 week gold cycle. The fact that this is 'Golden Week' in China does not appear (thus far) to have any affect on the gold price. A lot of the current energy is coming from emotional buyers, who tend to ignore situations that a lot of us consider 'overbought'. Let us enjoy the ride. The number of ounces backing GLD increased from 32.3 to 32.5 million. The GDI is unchanged at 100%.

Featured is gold in Canadian dollars. Price is now well established above $5,000.00. The uptrend is solid inside the blue channel. The SIs and MAs are positive. A good part of the energy here is coming from the fact that the Canadian Government has no gold. Canada's assets consist of 380 billion dollars in US T-bills and bonds.

Featured is GDX the miners ETF. Price is rising inside the blue speed lines. The green arrows point to support in case of a pullback. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising.

=== >>> MODEL PORTFOLIO

Each report will show the trades that were completed since the last report.

Since I do most of my trading on the TSX, I will show the stock symbol for the US equivalent in brackets. Note: when trading a pink sheet listed stock, you should always buy or sell using a specific price - never a 'market' order.

To benefit from this feature, pull up a chart for any of the symbols that I buy or sell. Determine if you want to do likewise or wait for another opportunity. If you're not sure of the fundamentals, - click on the website link provided. Always make sure the index or ETF that represents the sector is in harmony with your trade. I apologize for the short time I stay in some stocks, but this is all based on chart patterns. If the chart pattern changes from positive to negative – I usually run. Here are some of my trading habits:

- I eliminate all emotion. Stocks are simply investments that I use to improve the bottom line. I pick a stock or commodity because I think the chart pattern looks positive. Once I decide that we are operating in a bull market, I don't bother with sell stops - I patiently wait for the stock or ETF to come back into positive territory.
- When I do sell below my cost, I look at the loss as an opportunity to get into a winner.
- I use the 20 day and 30 day exponential moving averages at Stockcharts.com to help me decide when to buy and when to sell. Then I draw a channel, just as I do in the reports I issue. As long as the stock stays in the channel, I'll keep it as part of the portfolio, unless I decide to take profits.
- You've heard people say: 'Buy Low – Sell High'. Here is a variation on that advice: BUY HIGH – SELL HIGHER! It has been my experience that buying stocks that have just broken out to a new 5 year high have been the best performers in my portfolio. When a stock or commodity has reached this stage, there is 'blue sky' ahead.
- Next I look at the supporting indicators – especially the Accumulation/ Distribution line. When a stock or commodity becomes overbought (such as trading near the top of the channel, or making a 'double or triple' top), I usually sell all or part of my holding into the rally. . Over time I try to replace these stocks during pullbacks.
- Finally I make sure that the sector in which the stock or commodity operates, is moving in the same direction as the stock of commodity that I am about to buy.

Here are some kernels of wisdom from a very successful trader, Jesse Stine:

- Emotional intelligence is of utmost importance.
- Discipline is key
- Drawdowns are lessons.
- Patience is very important
- Ignore the news media
- Have faith in your system
- Trade with confidence
- Never get attached to a stock
- Be a contrarian
- Be a lone wolf.

According to an article titled: The Strange Behavior of Gold Investors, by Dimitri Speck (link is here): https://www.gold-eagle.com/article/strange-behavior-gold-investors-monday-thursday

Wednesday is a day when investors usually buy gold early.

Transactions within the Model Portfolio are henceforth shown in the daily report. So far during the past 12 months we closed out 184 positions. 177 at a profit and 7 at a loss. This produces a ratio of +96% The reason why our portfolio is large is due to our desire to be of help to as many investors as possible, by blazing a trail, and 'trading with our supporters'. Our position in 'penny stocks' is always very conservative, but growing, as the % increase in a penny stock with proven assets in a safe location usually beats a senior producer 'hands down'.

11 positions are 'under water'.

The Model Portfolio consists of 76% precious metals, 18% in various other categories and 6% cash.

This chart compares silver to gold. Price broke out at the green arrow and the test that often follows a breakout appears to have found support at the 50% retracement level. A close above the blue arrow will likely mean that the uptrend is back on track. The target for this breakout is at 0.124. The implication is that silver will likely outperform, but both metals will benefit from the breakout.

Featured is the silver chart. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising. The green arrow points to support. The number of ounces backing SLV rose from 494.8 to 499.0 million.

This chart compares silver miners to gold miners. Over 6 months silver stocks outperformed. However during the last 4 months the trend is level.

Featured is SIL the silver producers ETF. Price is rising inside the blue speed line. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising.. The green arrow points to support in case of a pullback.

Featured is URNM a Uranium ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel and the rate of ascent is as good as gold! A double in 6 months!. The green arrow points to a support level.

Featured is COPX a copper ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The SIs and MAs are positive. The green arrow points to support.

Thy Will Be Done

Do not fear those who kill the body but are not able to kill the soul. But rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.
— Matthew 26:42
In his agonized prayer in the Garden of Gethsemane, we see the total submission of Christ to the Father. We see a struggle between life and death, a cosmic struggle with millions of souls in the balance. The victory was in submission.
This short little prayer, “Your will be done” has been called “the prayer that never fails.” God always honors and answers this prayer. Throughout our life, we need to pray it many times as we again and again give control of our lives to God.
We need to pray, “Lord, use me today for Your great purposes and for Your glory.” When we do this, we will be amazed at the opportunities we have to do good. We will meet people in need. We will meet people who are lost—people with whom we can share the Good News. There are always all kinds of opportunities to serve His plan.

This prayer demonstrates the difference between a Christian prayer and a pagan prayer (or incantation). When a pagan prays, he tries to harness the spiritual powers of the universe to do his bidding and proclaims, “As I will so it must be.” In other words, “My will be done.” Contrast that with the Christian prayer: “Thy will be done.”
