This info bloc courtesy Silver Academy shows panic borrowing from the US FED on the last day of the year. This spells inflation!

World Debt (in $ trillion) At Record High

This chart courtesy Bravos, shows the rising trend in World Debt. No wonder the price of gold is following a similar trend.

Featured is the daily gold chart. Price broke out at the blue arrow a week or so ago and is currently 'back-testing' this breakout. The green arrow points to support. A close above the brown arrow will mark the continuation of the uptrend. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising. The number of ounces backing GLD is unchanged at 34.4 million. The GDI closed unchanged at 100%.

Featured is the weekly gold chart. The green arrows point to bottoms in the 7 - 8 week gold cycle, the brown arrows point to tops. Next week will be #10, or more likely week #1 in a new cycle. A Friday close above 4400 will confirm a new cycle. There is lateral support at 4200 and 4000.

Featured is GDX the miners ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. In the event of weakness during the next few days, there is support at the green arrow. A close above the blue arrow will indicate that the uptrend is ongoing. The SIs are positive, along with the MAs.

== >>> MODEL PORTFOLIO

Each report will show the trades that were completed since the last report.

Since I do most of my trading on the TSX, I will show the stock symbol for the US equivalent in brackets. Note: when trading a pink sheet listed stock, you should always buy or sell using a specific price - never a 'market' order.

To benefit from this feature, pull up a chart for any of the symbols that I buy or sell. Determine if you want to do likewise or wait for another opportunity. If you're not sure of the fundamentals, - click on the website link provided. Always make sure the index or ETF that represents the sector is in harmony with your trade. I apologize for the short time I stay in some stocks, but this is all based on chart patterns. If the chart pattern changes from positive to negative - I usually run. Here are some of my trading habits:

- I eliminate all emotion. Stocks are simply investments that I use to improve the bottom line. I pick a stock or commodity because I think the chart pattern looks positive. Once I decide that we are operating in a bull market, I don't bother with sell stops - I patiently wait for the stock or ETF to come back into positive territory.

- When I do sell below my cost, I look at the loss as an opportunity to get into a winner.
- I use the 20 day and 30 day exponential moving averages at Stockcharts.com to help me decide when to buy and when to sell. Then I draw a channel, just as I do in the reports I issue. As long as the stock stays in the channel, I'll keep it as part of the portfolio, unless I decide to take profits.
- You've heard people say: 'Buy Low – Sell High'. Here is a variation on that advice: BUY HIGH – SELL HIGHER! It has been my experience that buying stocks that have just broken out to a new 5 year high have been the best performers in my portfolio. When a stock or commodity has reached this stage, there is 'blue sky' ahead.
- Next I look at the supporting indicators – especially the Accumulation/Distribution line. When a stock or commodity becomes overbought (such as trading near the top of the channel, or making a 'double or triple' top), I usually sell all or part of my holding into the rally. . Over time I try to replace these stocks during pullbacks.
- Finally I make sure that the sector in which the stock or commodity operates, is moving in the same direction as the stock of commodity that I am about to buy.

Here are some kernels of wisdom from a very successful trader, Jesse Stine:

- Emotional intelligence is of utmost importance.
- Discipline is key
- Drawdowns are lessons.
- Patience is very important
- Ignore the news media
- Have faith in your system
- Trade with confidence
- Never get attached to a stock
- Be a contrarian
- Be a lone wolf.

According to an article titled: The Strange Behavior of Gold Investors, by Dimitri Speck (link is here): <https://www.gold-eagle.com/article/strange-behavior-gold-investors-monday-thursday>

Monday is a day when investors usually sell gold early.

Transactions within the Model Portfolio are shown as they occur, in the daily report that goes out to supporters.

I often take profits via a transaction that was planned when I bought the stock.

So far during the past 12 months we closed out 205 positions. 199 at a profit and 6 at a loss. This produced a ratio of +96% These numbers will change slightly as we switch to the latest 12 month period The reason why our portfolio is large is because of a desire to be of help to as many investors as possible, by blazing a trail, and 'trading with our supporters'. Our position in 'penny stocks' is always very conservative, but growing if the price rises. The % increase in a penny stock with proven assets in a safe location usually beats a senior producer 'hands down'.

12 positions are 'under water'.

The Model Portfolio consists of 86% precious metals, 20% in various other categories and 4% cash.

Featured is the daily silver chart. Price produced a downside reversal a few days ago (brown arrow). This usually warns of weakness ahead. The green arrows point to support levels. Perhaps the demand for physical silver is strong enough to overcome this technical set-up. Nevertheless caution is the watchword. In the event that price reaches either of the green arrows it will make for a great buying opportunity. The number of ounces backing SLV is unchanged at 528.6 million. A number of black swans, such as a bank failure or a large corporation demanding a large order for silver, will cancel out any negative chart pattern. In the end it is the fundamentals that rule.

Featured is the weekly silver chart. The brown arrow points to a downside reversal. Weekly reversals (up or down) tend to influence a lot of investors. We may not see price down to the lower green arrow, but we can almost count of the upper green arrow to be tested next week.

Featured is SIL the silver producers ETF. Price has reached our target at the blue arrow. A pullback will test support at either of the green arrows. Thereafter the trend is expected to continue to rise inside the blue channel.

Featured is URNM a Uranium ETF. Price has broken out at the blue arrow. The target is at the green arrow. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment.

Featured is COPX a copper ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. In the event of a pullback there is support at the green arrows.. The SIs are positive and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising.

Noble Things

Finally, brothers, whatever things are true, whatever things are honest, whatever things are just, whatever things are pure, whatever things are lovely, whatever things are of good report, if there is any virtue, and if there is any praise, think on these things.

— Philippians 4:8

In Philippians 4:8, Paul tells us that we must focus our thoughts on positive things. He tells us that human life is forwarded by thinking on things which are noble.

One of the great tragedies now seen in modern times is that through their separation from God, most in the media continually fill our minds with the very antithesis of all of these things. What we see on television and in most movies and novels today, is not that which is lovely. We see that which is unjust, unfair, and, ungodly; that which is unkind, untrue; that which is unlovely, crass, and ghastly; that which is horrible and unclean and vile, all set forth constantly before our minds and poured into our brains through the gates of the eyes and ears in the name of realism.

It is true that the gutter is real. It is equally true that the gutter is neither the only reality nor the highest reality. Life is ennobled by thinking on things that are above. Set your thoughts on those things that are above, on things that are lovely, and true, of good report and praise.

Life is made ignoble by fixing our minds on that which is crass and unclean and impure. If we would know real mental health and happiness, it is going to involve our thinking on the things that are above.
