This chart courtesy Bloomberg shows the confidence of some investors who have just purchased call options on gold for December 2026 at $15,000

Featured is the daily gold chart. Price is bouncing off the 200DMA just like a few years ago. The target is 5500.

Featured i GDX the miners ETF. Just as with the chart above, price has found support at the rising 200DMA (green arrows). The target is at the blue arrow. The SIs are at support and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising.

== >>> MODEL PORTFOLIO

Each report will show the trades that were completed since the last report.

Since I do most of my trading on the TSX, I will show the stock symbol for the US equivalent in brackets. Note: when trading a pink sheet listed stock, you should always buy or sell using a specific price - never a 'market' order.

To benefit from this feature, pull up a chart for any of the symbols that I buy or sell. Determine if you want to do likewise or wait for another opportunity. If you're not sure of the fundamentals, - click on the website link provided. Always make sure the index or ETF that represents the sector is in harmony with your trade. I apologize for the short time I stay in some stocks, but this is all based on chart patterns. If the chart pattern changes from positive to negative – I usually run. Here are some of my trading habits:

- I eliminate all emotion. Stocks are simply investments that I use to improve the bottom line. I pick a stock or commodity because I think the chart pattern looks positive. Once I decide that we are operating in a bull market, I don't bother with sell stops - I patiently wait for the stock or ETF to come back into positive territory.
- When I do sell below my cost, I look at the loss as an opportunity to get into a winner.
- I use the 20 day and 30 day exponential moving averages at Stockcharts.com to help me decide when to buy and when to sell. Then I draw a channel, just as I do in the reports I issue. As long as the stock stays in the channel, I'll keep it as part of the portfolio, unless I decide to take profits.
- You've heard people say: 'Buy Low – Sell High'. Here is a variation on that advice: BUY HIGH – SELL HIGHER! It has been my experience that buying stocks that have just broken out to a new 5 year high have been the best performers in my portfolio. When a stock or commodity has reached this stage, there is 'blue sky' ahead.
- Next I look at the supporting indicators – especially the Accumulation/Distribution line. When a stock or commodity becomes overbought (such as trading near the top of the channel, or making a 'double or triple' top), I usually sell all or part of my holding into the rally. . Over time I try to replace these stocks during pullbacks.
- Finally I make sure that the sector in which the stock or commodity operates, is moving in the same direction as the stock of commodity that I am about to buy.

Here are some kernels of wisdom from a very successful trader, Jesse Stine:

- Emotional intelligence is of utmost importance.
- Discipline is key
- Drawdowns are lessons.
- Patience is very important
- Ignore the news media
- Have faith in your system
- Trade with confidence
- Never get attached to a stock
- Be a contrarian
- Be a lone wolf.

According to an article titled: The Strange Behavior of Gold Investors, by Dimitri Speck (link is here): <https://www.gold-eagle.com/article/strange-behavior-gold-investors-monday-thursday>

Monday is a day when investors usually sell gold early.

Transactions within the Model Portfolio are shown as they occur, in the daily report that goes out to supporters.

I often take profits via a transaction that was planned when I bought the stock. So far during the past 12 months we closed out 218 positions. 215 at a profit and 3 at a loss. This produced a ratio of +97% These numbers will change slightly whenever we switch to the latest 12 month period The reason why our portfolio is large is because of a desire to be of help to as many investors as possible, by blazing a trail, and 'trading with our supporters'. Our position in 'penny stocks' is always very conservative, but growing if the price rises. The % increase in a penny stock with proven assets in a safe location usually beats a senior producer 'hands down'.

38 positions are 'under water'. (SL) means I'm planning to sell this into the next rally).

The Model Portfolio consists of 82% precious metals, 12% in various other categories and 6% cash.

Here is my portfolio:

'Argentum et Aurum comparanda sunt' - Silver and Gold must be bought!

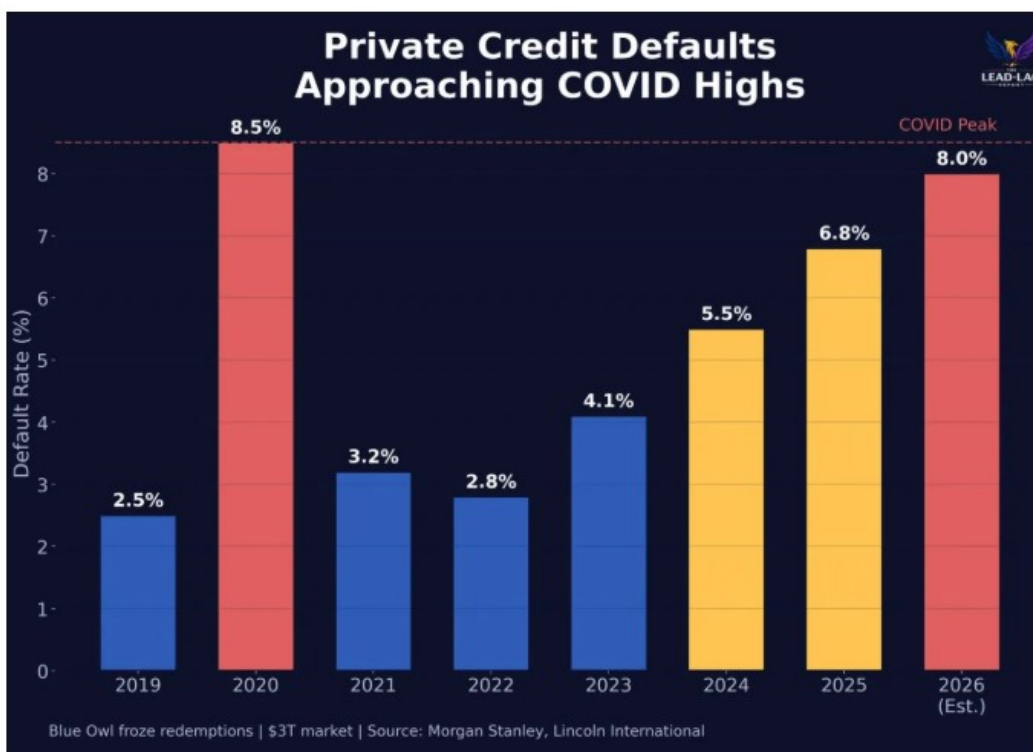

Featured is a long term cup with handle chart for silver. The expectation is for this trend to go on for quite a while Featured is SIL the silver producers ETF. Price has found support at the green arrow. The SIs are also at support and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising. The blue arrow points to the target.

Featured is URNM a Uranium ETF. Price is rising inside the blue channel. The SIs are at support and the MAs are in positive alignment and rising. A close above the blue arrow will turn mark the start of a rally.

This chart courtesy Prof St Onge shows a steady increase in the amount of private credit that is defaulting on lenders. The numbers are closing in on the Covid highs.

This chart courtesy Macroking shows a widening divergence between the $CRB (commodities) in blue, and the Mag 7 tech stocks - black.

John Bunyan

As you've walked along your life's path, have you ever felt you've gone astray, entirely unable to find your way back? Perhaps even today you feel a bit lost, fearing you've taken a wrong turn because of a choice you've made . . .

John Bunyan, the seventeenth-century author who wrote Pilgrim's Progress, a great Christian classic, wandered off the path leading to Christ. According to his own testimony, Bunyan was a very ungodly young man. During this period of his life, he wrote, "Then I said unto God, 'Depart from me, for I desire not the knowledge of Thy ways.'" Because he rejected God, Bunyan had no peace in his heart. He felt greatly troubled by thoughts of the future, believing he had sinned beyond the possibility of hope. But at last he read John 6:37: "And the one who comes to Me I will by no means cast out." As Bunyan came to God, God granted him mercy, and Bunyan began to see the Light of salvation dawn upon him. He had come to know eternal life.

Bunyan later described his journey from despair to hope, from sinner to saint, in Pilgrim's Progress, one of the greatest allegories of all time. The book chronicles a journey from the City of Destruction through the Doubting Castle and other dangers to the Celestial City. In it, Bunyan describes how anyone who desires the pilgrim way may find it, and he warns of the dangers one will encounter along the way.

Bunyan had learned a great lesson: We are saved only by grace, free and unmerited. Bunyan reminds us that we are only passing through this life en route to a greater destination. Therefore, we must take care to not get sidetracked from the straight and narrow path. Where are you along this journey? Do you allow Christ to guide you? As you trust in God's grace, you can ". . . .and the one who comes to Me I will by no means cast out."

— John 6:37

Persevere to the end, for Christ gives you safe passage.

“He [Jesus] hath given me a rest by
His sorrow, and life by His death.”

John Bunyan

This item may be of interest of those who study eschatology: In the book of Daniel we read about 4 world empires: Babylon, Medo Persia, Greece and Rome. All four were correctly predicted to Daniel by God. The first 3 were destroyed, but the Roman empire was never destroyed or taken over. The Bible predicts continuation by a group of ten kings. That is yet to happen. Daniel is told that this fourth world empire will be different from the 3 that preceded it. It would be tough as steel and far different than the first three. So here is a question for you: Could the coming fourth empire consist of AI? The goal of AI is the merging of humans with computers. That would sure be different from the 3 empires that came before. Just something for you to ponder.
